

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

THE INTERNATIONAL

MODERN LANGUAGE SERIES

The books of the International Modern Language Series have become widely known throughout the schools and colleges of America. Over one hundred and thirty books are included in the series, each having been carefully selected as a standard in its own language as well as a text to meet the requirements in English instruction. The books are edited by teachers of experience and authority in the best institutions. The Introductions, Notes, Vocabularies and Questions are of the highest order and make the series far superior to any other available for American students. Attractive in appearance and convenient to handle, the volumes are also in the lead in mechanical finish. A complete descriptive list will be sent upon application.

The Most Recent Additions to the Series are :

Goethe's Gotz von Berlichingen mit der eisernen Hand (Hildner)

Heyse's L'Arrabbiata (Byington)

Schiller's Wilhelm Tell (Vos)

Baumbach's Marchen und Gedichte (Manley)

The Poetry of Victor Hugo (Edgar and Squair)

Fulda's Der Talisman (Manthey-Zorn)

Old Spanish Readings (Ford)

GINN AND COMPANY, Publishers,

29 Beacon Street

BOSTON

LATEST BOOKS

Olmsted and Gordon's Spanish Grammar for Schools and Colleges. xii + 519 pp. 12mo. $1.40.

By E. W. OLMSTED, Professor in Cornell University, and ARTHUR GORDON, Assistant Professor in the same.

Combines a systematic treatment of the grammar with ample colloquial drill. The exercises are practical and interesting to an unusual degree. The body of the book is made up of a connected series of lessons, covering the essentials of Spanish grammar. A full appendix contains tables of forms, various word-lists, and the minor details of grammar, together with selections in prose for sight reading and poems for memorizing.

Prokosch's Introduction to German.

By EDUARD PROKOSCH, Assistant Professor in the University of Wisconsin. x + 316 pp. 12mo. $1.15.

Part I consists of carefully graded and very simple reading material thoroly German in spirit. Part II consists of connected lessons, with exercises for drill and colloquial practice, and systematic cross references to the reading matter in Part I. The vocabulary used in the exercises is the same as that used in the reading selections, and the important words are emphasized by frequent repetition. Part III is a systematic summary of the forms and principles of German grammar.

Ready in June

Allen's Daheim.

By PHILIP SCHUYLER ALLEN, Associate Professor of German Literature in the University of Chicago.

A very easy German reader for first-year high school work, and as thoroly German in atmosphere as the author's Herein. The apparatus at the end of the book includes Fragen based on the stories and sketches and a selection of idiomatic phrases to be memorized. A number of songs with the music are added.

Henry Holt and Company

34 West 33d St., New York 623 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago

